Builder not known
1976 - 57ft - Semi-traditional Stern
Narrowbeam boat lying at Mercia Marina

We like something different here at Mercia, this wont tick everybody's boxes, but it has potential to change around if the current layout doesn't work. Four Season has been in the same ownership from new, starting out as a restaurant boat with a wooden top, then being converted to what you see now with a steel top, covered in canvas to give a working boat look. From the stern you enter the galley which has a toilet compartment with pumpout toilet and washbasin, directly at the stern. The galley has a microwave, fridge & Wallas hob. There is a dining area forward of the galley. Next there is a wet room with shower and wash basin. The main open plan saloon has 2 single beds, With another bulkhead you could create a separate bedroom! Four Seasons doesn't look her age, the engine bay would put many much newer boats to shame. A survey from 2005 reflects a good hull at that time.
