Dennis Cooper 1980 - 62ft - Traditional Stern Narrowbeam boat lying at Mercia

Manju is a boat with a fine pedigree, being built by Dennis Cooper(CTS) at his yard in Norton Canes. Dennis Cooper was at the forefront of building modern narrowboats along traditional lines, and to this day can be easily distinguished from modern builders. Manju is a one family boat which has been regularly maintained which becomes immediately evident when viewing. Manju has been stretched twice by the builder to her current length of 62'6" A survey is available to view from October 2025. The interior comprises of a large saloon, modern galley with gloss fronted units, bathroom, bedroom with fixed double bed, under bed storage and wardrobes, engine room housing the the Perkins engine and all services. At the stern is a very practical boatmans cabin with 2 side bunks and and the all important stove for those cold winter days. Manju could make a good residential boat. Don't be put off by age.
